Miss Sallie Ross and Miss Nellie Stapler were hostesses, and how delighted they were.

The barn was the most comfortable place to hold a dance. It was round brick one, with doors and windows opposite each other. The floor was beautifully "enamel" top and bottom, and to climb up and down the ladder, Park hill music, fiddle, guitar and mandolin. Right near the barn is a spring and a small stream, and everything ideal, there were six sets going at the same time.

One of the most unique features of Muskogee is the second congressional district at the primary, was his nephew, Wilt W. Hastings, Jr., 29 years old, making a speech from the walls of the schoolroom, was most eloquent.
